2020

RISING STAR OF THE YEAR

What's been your strategy to get you to where you are now?

Sharing my own Mannatech experience and the positive changes I've seen since I started has been a huge help and inspiration. It's also important not to be discouraged when you get the "I'm not interested" line when pitching. Always endeavour to deliver a presentation they won't forget.

I was introduced to Mannatech in 2008 by my sister-in-law who invited my wife and I to attend a Mannatech seminar on the Gold Coast. The testimonies I heard from people that day were amazing. I also learned that the products we consume every day are being modified to speed up production. Fruits and vegetables are being cloned to modify their identical appearance, ultimately meeting the demands of a growing population.

It wasn't until 2020, before COVID19, I had my own health issue. The decision to connect with my sister-in-law and purchase the product was purely based on the testimonies I heard that day in 2008. Being a nurse, it's common knowledge amongst health workers, that prescription medication is only a band-aid solution, used only to suppress the symptoms. This was never an option for me. I would say after 5 weeks of taking the products (Core 5 Ambrotose Complex bundle) I was amazed by the results. Not only did my health improve, my mind was also sharper, and my energy levels improved dramatically.

So, if anyone is interested in gaining back control of their health, whether it's weight loss, premature ageing, to boost your immune system, there's no risk in trying Mannatech. Even more so as there is a 90-day money-back guarantee if you're not satisfied with any of the products.

What has been your greatest challenge in 2020?

I think everyone would agree 2020 was a challenging time. The pandemic is definitely an event we will never forget. The uncertainty was the greatest challenge for us. Millions of people were, and still are, experiencing loss of loved ones all over the world. They've experienced extreme hardships.

Witnessing the suffering abroad has encouraged us to be grateful for what we have! Our hardships, in comparison to what is happening in India at this time and other parts of the world, brings sadness.

The pandemic has definitely changed our mindsets to accept our hardships as blessings.

What's your goal for 2021?

My goal for 2021 is my connection with God. It's one aspect of my life I am focussed on at the moment. I believe that no matter what life throws my way, if my relationship with God is made a daily priority, his presence is sufficient and will get me through difficult times. He gives me the strength to face my trials. I also have faith, by claiming his promises, that he will supply all of my needs spiritually, mentally and physically.

One promise I claim when things get tough is found in Isaiah 26: 4

"Trust in the Lord forever, for in the Lord God you have an everlasting rock"
